This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

+ Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
+ Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

PREFACE.

THE revision of that part of the Register comprised in this volume, and particularly the period 1850-1874, has naturally been a far easier task than was the case in the earlier part. The entries in the Album were accurately transcribed for the edition of 1886, and the corrections now made have been for the most part supplied by the bearers of the names themselves. The Album has, however, been carefully studied and the contemporary School Lists examined, with the result that a few omitted names have been added to the Roll.

Similarly in the annotation, the Editor has had the benefit of a sound foundation to work upon. The Editor of the volume printed in 1886 had no time-honoured glosses to mislead him, and the majority of his notes only require the additions to them which time has brought. In order to make these additions correctly circulars, specifying the points requiring attention in their own individual cases, have been sent to upwards of two thousand Old Rugbeians. That eighty per cent. have failed to reply is taken to mean rather that they are content with the old notes, than that they are indifferent as to the correctness of their entry, or the descriptions given of their careers. The Editor has, nevertheless, made every effort to bring all notes up to date, even in cases where personal returns might reasonably have been expected.

The list of Boarding Houses tentatively given in Volume i., has elicited more exact information, and so far as it concerns the period covered by this Volume, is reprinted below. The point of interest being, who took on the Boarders on the departure of any House Master, a somewhat different way of arranging the list has been adopted. It should, perhaps, be mentioned that in former days it was not uncommon for boys to migrate from one House to another, but these migrations can only be dated by a reference to the School Lists.

The detection of some more ghost names conjured up by the "Companion to the Rugby School Register," and unsuspectingly adopted in Volume i., renders a list of further Addenda to that Volume necessary.

The special thanks of the Editor are due to Dr. James for his appeal to the Press, which has elicited information from all parts of the world: to many Old Rugbeians, who have answered specific inquiries: and particularly to Morris Davies, W. B. Gair, and G. A. Solly, who have assisted greatly in tracing names from Rugby, London, and Liverpool, respectively.
